

Message: A message is sent from a user to any users to communicate. A user can receive any number of messages from any other user. Lists messages that have either been sent or received by the user.

User: A user is a person with an account and permission to interact with our website.

Profile: A profile is a page that contains information on the user it belongs to. Other users can see posts by or send a message to the user to which the profile page belongs to. Lists the contact information and posts of the user.

Posts: A user can be the author of any number of posts, but every post can only have one author. Posts can have multiple tags and tags can lead to multiple posts. Lists the author, posting date, and tags of the post.

Tags: Lists tags that contain the name of the genre(s) that a post is associated with. A post can have multiple tags and tags can be connected to multiple posts.